

CryoEM Render Farm on CloudyCluster with Blender

Blender is the free and open source 3D creation suite. It supports modeling, rigging, animation, simulation, rendering, compositing and motion tracking, even video editing and game creation. Advanced users employ Blender's API for Python scripting to customize the application and write specialized tools; often these are included in Blender's future releases.